

Era And Express Circulation Averages 2,581 Copies Weekly

Three Months Average Circulation Shows Increasing Public Interest In Era And Express

It is because you can't stop people looking a gift horse in the mouth that advertisers want to know that a publication's circulation is paid for.

You can send a man a newspaper but you can't make him read it—not even if it tells about his daughter's wedding and his son's home run.

If a family pays for a newspaper, $2 a year, or five cents a copy, that is accepted as good evidence that it is wanted and read.

In order to give advertisers this information that they consider necessary, that is, how many copies of this publication are paid for, The Era and Express belongs to the Audit Bureau of Circulations and keeps exact records of the number of papers printed each week and of what happens to each of them, how many spoiled in printing, how many go to mail subscribers, where the subscribers are located, how many are sold as single copies by newsboys or stores, and how many are returned as unsold.

There is also an advantage to The Era and Express, for careful records mean production economies and increased revenues.

For the three months ended June 30 The Era and Express had an actual average paid circulation of 2,581, compared with 2,313 for the six months ended March 31. The actual average number of copies printed for the same period was 2,946. The difference made up of copies to advertisers and correspondents, exchanges, unsold copies, etc. Every effort is made to keep this difference as small as possible. The actual average number of copies sold in Newmarket, either by subscription, store or newsboy was 985 for the three months, in other words, in some weeks it exceeded 1,000 copies. That is in a town generally considered to have 520 households. The explanation no doubt is that many copies sold in the stores are purchased by people living outside Newmarket and probably that some of them are purchased by soldiers from the military camp.

Something over 350 Newmarket householders are subscribers, getting their Era and Express through the post office, at a cost of four cents a copy if they subscribe for one year, or three cents a copy if they subscribe for two years. Over 600 single copies are sold in the town every week at five cents a copy.

Campbell's Book Store sells from 115 copies (at this time of the year) to 190 copies in the winter time. Spilliet's store is selling 90 copies nearly every week. One newsboy, Laurie Thomas, sells 80 copies every week on his own route, calling on the same customers each week.

In the trading area centred about Newmarket and Aurora the actual average number of paid copies for the three months was 993, in addition to the 985 in Newmarket. This 993 included some 275 sold in Aurora. The remaining 603 copies sold outside northern York county included 238 soldiers' subscriptions (at half price).

Farm Front Is Calling For Two-Fisted Reinforcements

ONE COMMANDO GROUP
BELIEVES IT HAS SET UP
LOCAL RECORD

More men are being asked for each evening by Newmarket district farmers than can be supplied, it was learned at the agricultural representative's office this week.

Fourteen men were out last Friday evening, but usually not so many can be gathered up for an evening's work. There are many citizens who are ready to help when asked but not enough volunteering, it is said at commando headquarters.

A commando group set up what they consider a hay record at the James Faris farm, Yonge St., on Monday evening. Ken Craig, Art West, J. P. Jefferson and Jim Moore were the commandos. Two men from the James Faris farm and two men from the Dalton Faris farm made up a team of eight.

With two wagons, one from each farm, the eight men put in ten loads of hay from 7.15 to 9.30 p.m.

A commando team of Ceph. Andrews, Albert Seitz and Donald Cockburn, under Bill Geer, did double duty on Friday evening. They did all the field work at Andrew Watson's and then went on to Chas. Hunt's for another "show."

Help will be needed from now right through the grain harvest. Volunteers should get in touch with the agricultural representative's office or with H. E. Gilroy, W. J. Geer, R. L. Boag or J. L. Spilliet. Even one evening's service will be appreciated.

SAY YOUNGSTERS NEED MORE RECREATION

Three juveniles were swinging on one of the town flag-staff guy-wires until they broke the top of the flagstaff, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales told the town council on Monday evening. One youngster was nearly struck by the falling "top mast."

Councillor A. D. Evans told the council of youngsters breaking street lights at Connaught gardens.

"We do not provide as much recreation as we might for the youngsters," said Dr. Dales. "After the war we must do more."

"The Lions park is beautiful and yet the kids play on Timothy St. Instead of in the park," said Councillor Joseph Vale.

"Richmond Hill Lions club has provided organized play for Richmond Hill children for the summer," Councillor Frank Bowser told the council.

IT'S A BIG ONE

A bass weighing over six pounds was pulled out of Lake Simcoe at Keswick last week by Councillor A. V. Higginson, Newmarket.

DAVIS BOYS SCORE OVER SPECIALTY

Davis Leather hardballers continued on their merry winning ways last Thursday evening, over the ball park, as they punched out another decision (their fourth) over the hapless tail-end Office Specialty nine. The final score of the seven inning ball game was 12-8.

The Specialty club played one of their best games, but they still seem to be out-lucked and unable to break into the win column. The Specialty gang took the lead right in the first inning when they managed to squeeze three runs over the plate but the tanners tied it up in the second. Evidently they can't stand prosperity, for they again took the lead in the third and lost it.

The tanners clinched the verdict by pasting over four runs in the sixth after the game had been tied for two innings. Ken Flett started on the mound for the Specialty but was lifted at the end of the fourth inning. Hilton pitched the other three innings and was charged with the loss.

Bob Peters, on the mound for the leather-men, south-pawed the furniture-makers into submission.

Jack Wright made his initial appearance for the leather-men and turned in a sparkling performance. The game was the final scheduled game between the two arch rivals.

The two teams will not meet again unless they are pitted against each other in the playoffs.

Specialty: Gould 3b, Hilton ss-p, Widdifield rf, VanZant c, Palmer of, Flett p-2b, Neufeldt 1b, Blight 2b-ss, Brroughton lf, Wilson. Davis Leather: W. Haskett ss, Wright 2b, Peters p, Cain cf, Tansey 3b, Gould c, Harman lf, G. Haskett lf, Colton rf.

TRAINS NOT TO WHISTLE, TOWN ASKS OTTAWA

Train-whistling through Newmarket should be stopped, both night and day, two Second St. south residents, Frank Denison and Clement King, told Newmarket town council on Monday evening.

After hearing their representations and discussion, the council passed a resolution asking the Dominion railway board to have the whistling discontinued on the ground that the wig-wags give sufficient protection to motorists.

"On a still night we can hear the whistle when the train is just outside Aurora," Mr. Denison told the council. "I went to Barrie to see the supervisor. The only way is to go to the railway board at Ottawa, I learned."

"The town has wig-wags. If anyone got into trouble it would be a clear case of contributory negligence. I was talking to Mr. Eves and he says that they have the same trouble with noise at the hospital."

"Do you think that the whistles are not necessary?" asked Councillor Joseph Vale.

"I can't see that they are necessary," said Mr. Denison.

"Suppose the wig-wag did not work," said Mr. Vale. "Suppose a life was lost?"

"You always have that to contend with," said Mr. Denison. "People are killed sometimes when two automobiles collide. If someone were killed, there would be no liability on the town."

"No legal liability," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor. "I think Mr. Vale refers to moral responsibility. The council might feel badly if it requested the whistling discontinued and someone were killed."

"I can't see that whistling adds to the safety," said Mr. Denison. "The trains themselves make so much noise that a person would be stone-deaf not to hear them."

Mr. Denison told the council that when his wife was ill she would take a sedative to go to sleep and then be awakened in a few minutes by a train.

Reeve F. A. Lundy suggested a resolution asking that the whistling be reduced to a minimum.

"The only way is to cut them out entirely," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "It would be a tremendous improvement. People keep waking up in the nights and trying to go to sleep again. And since the war started it has been terrible. We could put up signs saying that the trains do not whistle."

"There is a train on an average every 40 minutes," said Mr. Lundy. A resolution passed later in the evening asked that the whistling be discontinued completely.

New A.R.P. Hose Saves Part Of Brick House

Newmarket firemen were called to a fire of unexplained origin in a brick house on the north side of Gorham St. belonging to the John Williamson estate on Tuesday evening.

The house, which is outside the town, was unoccupied. The upper story was gutted and roof destroyed.

The fire was well under way when the firemen arrived. They would have been helpless had it not been for the new A.R.P. one and a half inch hose, which they used to connect the end of the heavy town hose. With the new A.R.P. pumper they threw two strong streams of water on the fire.

"Skies Seem Filled With Drone Of Our Planes, Day, Night"

"Waiting For The Big Moment," "Will Give Account Of Themselves," Say Soldiers' Letters

"Just a line to add my thanks for the cigarettes," writes Cpl. Henry VanZant in a letter to the Newmarket Veterans Association. "I managed to break my ankle, so at present am going around with it in a cast. It is doing nicely and another month should see it O. K. again. I was all set to join my brother, Bill, on leave, but this wrote him until another time."

"Everything is fine here and we, like everyone else, are waiting for the big moment. I'll be thinking of you when I am smoking the cigarettes."

"Received your cigarettes yesterday, and thanks very much," writes Gnr. Lorne McCordick. "Just got back from a leave which I spent up in the Midlands. What with leave and manoeuvres, I think I've covered practically the whole country in the past couple of months, and believe me there is some very bleak country over here. We ran into a region about a month ago where we had two inches of snow but of course that was in the mountainous country and quite a bit north of here. It seemed funny to go all through the winter months without a bit of snow and then in May to run into winter with a vengeance."

"I have seen quite a few Newmarket lads recently. They all seem to be in pretty good health but rather fed up with inaction. We're kept rather busy now and I'm feeling rather tired. Anybody that tells you the artillery doesn't do any footslogging in this mechanized war should see some of our training."

"Thanks again for the cigarettes. You are doing a great job."

"Just dropping a few lines to express my thanks for the smokes which I have received from you from time to time in my stay over here," writes Tpr. R. E. Farren.

"The cigarettes certainly come in handy and I don't know what we would do without them. Thanks to the fine organizations back in our good town of Newmarket."

"In the paper I receive from home I have read several of Fred Evans' letters. He certainly got a tough break. I hope that in the near future I may be the first of the Newmarket boys to shake his hand when we take over the powers that are making a mess of this world. Fred and I were the best of pals. Lots of luck and keep up the swell job you are doing."

Spr. Harry Moss writes: "I am at present away from my old unit and am attached to a headquarters outfit which needed a painter and signwriter and have been here about three months now. The pressure has been terrific the last week or so but one has the satisfaction of knowing he is helping in a rather humble fashion perhaps, getting ready for the big push."

"We seem to be giving Germany a terrific hammering from the air lately and the skies seem to be filled with the drone of our planes, day and night. We seem to have made lots of mistakes since the beginning of the war but we certainly wound up the Tunisian campaign in real business-like fashion and now, that all signs point to getting to grips with the enemy on a far bigger scale in the near future, it really looks as though we shall be at last as well equipped if not better, than the Germans themselves. I am sure our boys will give a splendid account of themselves on whatever front or fronts they may be."

"Once again, many thanks to all Newmarket Veterans. They are quite tireless in their efforts for the boys over here. Cheerio!"

A card was also received from Spr. Moss. He says: "Again I thank the Newmarket Veterans for the parcel of cigarettes which I received last week. Excuse the delay in acknowledging them, but I have been kept very busy the last couple of weeks till around 9 p.m. Sunday as well, and it looks as though I shall be for some time. The smokes are greatly appreciated."

"Received the carton of cigarettes in good condition," writes Pte. Wm. Watt. "I am very grateful for them. To the members of your organization whom I know are contributing much of their time and to all who have made this possible, my sincerest thanks."

A card of appreciation for the cigarettes was received from Stoker A. G. Smith.

TURN DOWN PLAN FOR HOSPITAL INSURANCE

The following letter from W. A. Spear, secretary, York County hospital board, was read to the town council on Monday evening: "Acknowledging yours of April 20th, enclosing copy of a resolution passed by the municipal council of the town of Newmarket, relative to the establishment of a plan of hospitalization, I am instructed to advise you that since the date of your letter the Davis Leather Co. has adopted and placed in force its plan of hospitalization, which includes hospitalization and that the Office Specialty Manufacturing Co. is also considering placing similar coverage, and that in view of this it was considered that there would be very little need for the hospital to consider similar plans."

"Secondly, it was considered that if the hospital were to enter into such a plan that they would be entering the insurance field, which they consider inadvisable to do."

"In view of the foregoing the board decided not to adopt the suggestion made in your resolution."

R.C.A.F. Still Needs Women So Men May Fly

An R.C.A.F. mobile recruiting unit will visit Newmarket on Friday, July 30.

Recently R.C.A.F. headquarters adopted a policy accepting applications from men who require surgical treatment for hernia, but who are otherwise fit for enlistment in every other respect, for aircrew. It is proposed to enlist these men, provide surgical treatment and after a period of convalescence, have them commence their aircrew training.

Men are still required to train as wireless mechanics, new engine mechanics, airframe mechanics, carpenters (aircraft), metal workers (aircraft) and wireless operators (ground). This training is given under the war emergency training plan sponsored by the dominion-provincial youth training.

Recently women from many points in Ontario have been guests of the women's division on stations where they are employed, and these visitors have expressed surprise at the many duties that are easily performed by the women of the R.C.A.F. who have volunteered their services that men may fly.

Women are still needed as stenographers, telephone operators, teleprint operators and also women to train in a number of trades such as typists and chefs.

WIN AT AGINCOURT

Playing men's trebles at Agincourt yesterday, R. D. Brown, A. O. White and B. A. Budd won second prize for three wins.

A number of Newmarket teams will take part in a mixed tournament at Aurora tonight.

Newmarket bowling greens are much in use this year. There is more than usual interest in bowling and lots of competition.

A Newmarket school girl a couple of years ago, Dorothy Dales, niece of Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Dales, Newmarket, was chosen "Miss War Worker" out of a field of 65 girls from war plants of the province at the annual field day of the Toronto Police A.A.A. in the city on Saturday.

She works at Research Enterprises, Leaside, and lives in Toronto with her two Newmarket cousins, Betty and Dorothy Dales. When in Newmarket, to avoid confusion with the other Dorothy, she was called Dorothy "Cousin."

She wins $300. She is engaged to Lieut. A. G. Maitland, overseas. Her parents died when she was a child.

Soldiers Tan Tannery In Convincing Demonstration

DAVIS LEATHER TEAM TASTES
BITTER DEFEAT AT HANDS OF ARMY

Boom, boom—went the big guns from the Military Camp on Monday night, over at the Stuart Scott hardball diamond, as they slapped out homers, triples, doubles and plenty of singles to hand the Davis Leather outfit a convincing drubbing.

When the umpire halted the slaughter, the score stood 28-3. The leather men got off on the right foot in the very first inning when they scored three runs—the only runs of the night.

However, they lost this lead in the second half when the Camp retaliated with 14 runs. Yes, believe it or not 14 runs in one inning. Oliver Gould, who happened to be making his initial appearance as a starting hurler for the leathermen, walked five men in this inning in addition to hitting one batter.

Bob Peters relieved him after most of the damage had been done but the Camp still kept pecking away at his pitches and managed to send 12 more runners scampering across the home plate before the game was called.

Featured in the uprising were successive home runs by Mitchell and Wysinski in the second inning. Wysinski's was inside the park. Twice during the game the tanners got the bases loaded but were unable to put across a telling blow which would start a rally.

"Lefty" Earl Newbold started on the mound for the Camp but as in nearly all their other games the soldiers used another pitcher before the game was over. Watson, a right-hander, went in to throw in the fourth and showed a nice curve and fast ball.

The Camp seems to have an abundance of good pitchers and came up with a new one every game. It really is too bad that neither of the other teams can come up with a thrower to match the ability of the Camp's men.

Camp: Buchowsky 2b, Sutton rf, Exelby 1b, Mitchell 2b, Wysinski cf, Coffey ss, Dick lf, Hodges c, Newbold p, Miller lf, Watson p.

Monday, Aug. 2, will be observed as a civic holiday, it was decided by Newmarket town council on Monday evening.

Each of the three North York candidates for the Ontario legislature will be asked what he will try to do if elected to reduce the consumption of liquor, by a deputation representing the North York Temperance Federation.

A meeting of the Federation executive was held at Richmond Hill on Tuesday.

"We believe that the liquor question should not be a party issue in politics, but should be decided in the light of the considered judgment of all members of the legislature," is the policy of the Federation.

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION

With the Ontario election only a little over a week away, the issues have not become particularly clear. The Liberal government takes a conservative position. It says: "We have a good record in finance, agriculture, education and health. Return us to power and we will carry on." And it is quite true. The Liberal government has a good record. The Progressive-Conservatives say: "We will take a burden off real estate by paying half the present municipal cost of education. We will increase mothers' allowances and old age pensions and provide social security for all. We will provide employment. We will look after the soldiers returning home. We will take over the stockyards in Toronto. We will reduce taxation."

As the dominion government too intends to provide full social security it would appear that the Progressive-Conservatives might not have to worry too much about the fulfilment of this plank. The same is true of looking after the soldiers—the dominion government is pledged to look after them.

The C.C.F. would not stop with taking over the stockyards. It would take over "all monopolies within the jurisdiction of Ontario."

The suggestion is made that the Progressive-Conservative and C.C.F. promises are extravagant and impossible of fulfilment, as were those of the Aberhart government in Alberta. These things can be done. The only question is whether they should be done.

We are not impressed with the so-called burden on real estate, for well-spent municipal funds, providing desirable and useful services, increase the value of real estate, but we do think that Col. Drew's proposal to raise half the present municipal cost of education by provincial taxes has merits. But how will he raise the money? Will he sell more liquor? Or will he increase, when the war is over, income taxation? He is pledged to reduce taxation.

The hope, of course, is that reducing the taxation on real estate would stimulate the building and owning of homes. The money to pay for education would come, presumably, to some extent from a different group of people. If it came from the same people as at present they would have no more money than they have now with which to build or buy. We are not convinced at all that the shift in taxation would achieve this popular object, but we know that it would mean better schools, for local boards would pay teachers better, build better schools and generally spend more. There would be a competition among municipalities to get their share of the provincial revenues. It would be good for the schools, but it might be hard on the taxpayers. (Col. Drew might avoid this competition by paying so many mills on the assessment, or so much per child per school day.)

It seems to us that security of employment will contribute more to home-owning than will lower municipal taxation. Tenants pay taxes. It is probably cheaper to own your own house than to rent one. The chief reason people do not buy is that they do not know how long they will hold their present jobs. They do not wish to be at a disadvantage in wage bargaining with their employers. They don't want employers to think that they can't pick up and leave the town or district if they wish. Or, not knowing that their employment is secure, they hesitate to build or buy with the aid of a mortgage, for fear that they will lose their employment and what they have invested in a house.

So perhaps social security, or workman-favoring collective bargaining, as advocated by the C.C.F., would do more to stimulate home-owning than would Col. Drew's plan of shifting the incidence of taxation.

Would the other plans of the C.C.F. encourage home-owning and saving for one's old age? Would they contribute to the industry, honesty, prosperity and sense of security of the most of the people of the province? If they would, then they are to be voted for, even though they may not seem to be in the interest of those of us who are "in business."

C.C.F. plans, as enunciated by Mr. Jolliffe, seem an unnecessarily long way ahead, along the public ownership road, of the other parties, but we may assume that the C.C.F. in power would, like other parties, be a different party from the C.C.F. seeking power. Responsibility would bring conservatism to the C.C.F. even as it did to the 1934 Hepburn government, which was going to tame the banks and other financial institutions.

Unless the issues become clearer it is quite possible that the Liberals and Progressive-Conservatives will each win from 30 to 40 seats but not a majority and the C.C.F. from ten to 30 seats. That would compel the two older parties, who really do not differ substantially, to get together, and mean a return in Ontario, as there already is in British Columbia, to the two-party system.

"BEAUTY YET TO FIND? AND CERTAINTY? AND QUIET KIND?"

A war correspondent telling of the invasion of Sicily did not forget to tell of the Mediterranean blue of sky and water on the night of landing. It is perhaps a sacrifice at this time to talk of beauty while our soldiers in a foreign land fight and toil, sometimes for days without sleep, to liberate peoples who are hungry and ill, forced to work to advance a cause in which they do not believe, afraid to say what they think, perhaps unable to think.

In spite of it all, and in spite of the tragic news that from time to time strikes our homes in this distant land, there is still enjoyment of life in Canada. At the moment Canadians are enjoying a summer and the outdoors. The people of northern York county have much to enjoy. John Bracken, when he was in Newmarket recently, spoke of how fortunate the people of this part of Ontario are in their hills and valleys, their lakes and streams, their forests and meadows, the rich and refreshing green of the countryside.

That remark would be true of many parts of old Ontario, but when we drove the other evening from Newmarket to Keswick we thought how true it was of northern York county. Where is there countryside more beautiful than along the Keswick highway? It runs through green and fertile farms, with wood lots and forest in the background. It goes through the lovely villages of Sharon and Queensville with their tidy lawns and gardens. It comes out upon sudden hilltops, opening visions of splendor that would be breath-taking, as Mr. Bracken said, for residents of the prairies. Then this road of ours is not above deviating from the surveyor's blueprint as it brings us nearer to the playgrounds and pleasures of Lake Simcoe.

There is enjoyment of summer even on our farms. In spite of their toil from before dawn till late into the evening, in spite of all the worry about how crops are to be brought in, we venture to say that our farmers still enjoy summer more than winter, and we know that most of them pause occasionally to lift up their eyes "unto the hills around." There are moments of relaxation even on the farm front. We participated in such a moment last week at the end of a "commando" evening. Riding in from the fields, under moonlight, on the final load of hay was a memorable experience.

But even under our Ontario moonlight, as under Mediterranean skies, there are happenings of which none of us approve. "Some hae meat and canna eat, and some wad eat that want it." Mr. Bracken, who is no rabble-rouser, spoke in Newmarket of some of the changes we must make, but it seems to us a mistake to think of only those changes which parliaments and legislatures must make, and not of those which municipalities and neighbors may make.

Too seldom do we think of municipal services which we as a community might provide to make life more pleasant for all, to make life more tolerable. We may be resentful when people get "fed up" and talk of radical changes in our institutions, but we do not always do what we can to make our present institutions more successful. We do not make enough effort to secure public health nurses, or vocational high schools, or nursery schools, or swimming-pools, or parks or whatever it may be that would make easier the lot of parents of little or moderate means, but would be paid for by our property taxes.

Are we going to live differently after this war? A Toronto police official suggested that after this war we should, as a contribution to the safety of life and limb, maintain present motor speed limits. The writer enjoys the slower speeds, but he does not think that such speed limits would be enforceable in normal times without a whole new philosophy of life. Even without laws, perhaps we will have learned from this war to take life a little differently, to look more diligently at home for our happiness rather than to rush about the countryside at 60 miles an hour in a vain search for it, to be "home-bodies" and churchgoers, to try harder to make our own municipalities pleasant places to be and to live and to play.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

MUNICIPAL TAX REFORM

(Orillia Packet and Times)

One of the planks in the comprehensive 22 point platform enunciated by Col. Drew on behalf of the Progressive Conservative party cannot but give us much satisfaction. It is undertaking that, if returned to power, the Conservatives will have the province assume 50 percent of the cost of both elementary and secondary education; and also undertake to revise radically the municipal system of taxation. These are two reforms that these columns have been advocating for years, and it is gratifying to see them adopted as the policy of one of the great political parties. At last there is prospect that the tax load on real estate may be substantially mitigated. That is, of course, if the Conservatives should happen to be the winners in the approaching election.

It has been suggested that the payment of 50 percent of the cost of education will add materially to the provincial budget, and may involve new taxation. That may be. But it will not necessarily add a dollar to the tax burden that the taxpayers have to carry. It will simply be a readjustment of the cost of maintaining the schools, so that it will fall more equitably on a larger number of shoulders. At present, the major part of the load falls on the section of the community who are property owners, who are often neither the people who benefit directly nor those most able to pay.

In Orillia's case, as far as can be figured out, the change would mean that the province would take over something over $40,000 of the sums now levied on the taxpayers for the maintenance of the public schools and collegiate institute. The total expenditure on these schools is over $107,000 of which $88,759 is being levied by taxes. Government grants amount to $7,200. It is not unlikely that, if the province assumed so much more of the cost of education, the present bonus of a mill on the assessment would be withdrawn. Making allowance for these factors, and for county grants, it would appear that Col. Drew's proposal would mean a saving on the Orillia tax rate of seven or eight mills. The separate school also would share in the benefit.

The 50 percent payment towards school costs is announced as the initial contribution towards "a sweeping revision of our whole system of real estate taxation, so that the owning and improvement of homes and farm land will not be discouraged by excessive taxation." This is a reform we have often advocated and which is long overdue. The conditions in which the present system was inaugurated have altered radically, both in the increased scope of municipal responsibility, particularly in the direction of social services, and in the altered manner of living, which results in a large proportion of the population making no substantial contribution to the cost of the added services. Now that a major political party has espoused the cause of municipal tax reform there is reason to hope that the day of realization is not far distant. We have a strong suspicion that Mr. Leslie Frost, who is Col. Drew's first lieutenant, and Mr. Cecil Frost, who is president of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association, have had considerable influence in having this plank included in the platform of their party. They, personally, have been warm advocates of a revision in municipal taxation.

"Well, what do you think about that! He knows enough to take the shell off before he eats it just like we do."

"That's a female alongside of him. Listen to her chatter at him. He doesn't seem to be paying much attention to her, though."

"She must be his mate."

"They look kind of sad, don't they?"

"Yes. I guess they wish they were in here with us monkeys."

There's no secret about it. Here's the story, Mr. Evans.

THE assets held by life insurance companies in Canada are the common property of yourself and four million other Canadian men and women. These assets certainly get around. Some of them have built docks in the Maritimes. Some of them have built grain elevators on the prairies.

Some of them have gone into highway building on the Pacific Coast. For three years, now, most of them have gone to war.

In Memoriam

Rose—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Chas. Rose, who died on July 24, 1941.

A silent thought, a secret tear Keeps her memory ever dear.

Ever remembered by husband and family.

Sanderson—In sad but loving memory of our dear dad, Thomas Sanderson, who fell asleep July 24, 1939.

Just today of you we are thinking, But then, dear dad, that's nothing new, We thought of you yesterday And the day before that too.

We will think of you tomorrow, And each day through the year, We will think of you forever For to us you were so dear.

Ever remembered by your daughter, Mina, son-in-law, Larry, and grandchildren Gordon, in England, Wilda and Eleanor.

Sanderson—In memory of a dear husband and father, Thos. Sanderson, who passed away four years ago, July 24, 1939.

God called him home, it was His will, But in our hearts, we love him still; His memory is as dear today As in the hour he passed away.

We often sit and think of him When we are all alone, For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own.

Ever remembered by wife and sons, Rickman and Harold.

Sanderson—In memory of a dear father and grandfather, Thomas Sanderson, who passed away July 24, 1939.

Gone, dear father, gone forever, How we miss your smiling face, But you left us to remember None on earth can take your place.

A happy home we once enjoyed— How sweet the memory still— But death has left a loneliness The world can never fill.

Lovingly remembered by daughter, Martha, son-in-law, Jim, and grandson, George.

Whittaker—In loving remembrance of our dear daughter, Mary Elizabeth, who passed away July 28, 1934.

The flowers we place upon her grave, May wither and decay, But the love for her who sleeps beneath Shall never fade away.

Fondly remembered by mother, dad, sisters and brothers.

Wilson—In memory of my dear husband, Arthur E. Wilson, who departed this life July 20, 1903.

Long years have passed and many a day, Since you were so suddenly called away, Always kind and ever true, A friend to all you ever knew.

Happy years, but only few, Was I destined to spend with you, God took you home and left me here, In memory's dreams you still are near.

I turn life's pages day by day, Of memory's book so fair, And though you've gone a while before, You're waiting for me there.

In that fair land that's free from pain, None can with it compare, In that bright tomorrow there'll be no more sorrow, When we meet one another again.

Ever remembered by Minnie.

It has been the subject of promise from God's earliest dealings with mankind. God's covenant made with Abraham guaranteed the ultimate blessing of all nations, through Abraham and his "Seed the Christ" who ratified it by His death and resurrection. ## A WEEKLY EDITOR LOOKS AT Ottawa

Written specially for the weekly newspapers of Canada

Night of July 9. While Brooke Claxton, parliamentary assistant addressed a sparse and somnolent house on external affairs, I had the feeling somehow that momentous things were in the making. The prime minister and Defence Minister Ralston, only two cabinet members present were close in huddle in adjoining front benches. The P.M. looked grave and pre-occupied. He was making a pencilled draft. Correcting, leaning over to check with Mr. Ralston, pencilling some more. At 8 o'clock next morning I heard his radio announcement to the nation that the Canadians were fighting on the beach heads of Sicily. He may have been drafting that important speech as I watched, even while all of Canada was unaware of history-making events taking shape thousands of miles away. Surely they knew. What a secret to carry!

No stove league raised more fuss than sugar for canning. Housewives were definitely annoyed at the arbitrary allotment after counting cans in the basement. The opposition started a warm but informative debate in the house on this matter and Finance Minister Flaherty said knowledge of available supplies was not known at the time. It was estimated 30 to 40 percent of the population did their own canning. Lo and behold, actually 84% applied. Now, in Germany and the U.S.A., a flat allocation is made to each ration book holder, whether for canning or not. Canadians asked for 200 million lbs.; only half that amount available. Certainly there will be a different approach to the problem next year.

Most productive of argument speech in the house for some time—that of Justice Minister St. Laurent on the resolution for deferment of redistribution during the war. There was a distinct tenseness in the house. Party leaders and supporters approved, but nine Quebec members voted against putting the motion. There seemed unanimity with Mr. Caldwell the day must come when Canada will make decisions of this kind without reference to Imperial Parliament. That Canada by this time is wearing long pants. Mr. St. Laurent who talks in clipped and measured tones, drew fire from quiet speaking Conservative House Leader Graydon for "side-stepping the resolution and injecting racial controversies." The minister claimed some people mongered that "that man in the Vatican" and Quebec clergy plotted to control government of Canada. He said such talk was rampant. Saw the desirability of having our own flag and national anthem although that shouldn't be pressed during war. Claimed vigorously that Quebec was entitled to more equitable representation based on population. Mr. Graydon countered that raising of these side issues now was provocatively dangerous to national unity.

Who'd ever thought it! Research experts of the Department of Agriculture, although mum on the subject yet, are working on the production of rubber, resins and a superior kapok from species of the lowly milk weed. A group have returned here from the U.S.A., where they conferred with experts on progress made there along the same line. It appears it's getting into the post-experimental stage because I hear they are even working on harvesting methods and machinery to make the once-post get to work for the war-effort.

Members tell us the present 'long-drawn out session, which started in January, will probably wind up by the end of this month. The closely-printed official report of the House of Commons already runs well over 4000 pages. Which brings up press comment that the four federal by-elections will be a serious test of public opinion; may influence the government's decision re a general election, though there is no official peep about such a possibility. Ontario election: editors in the province showing definite party tendencies, but all agreeing there should be no apathy by the voters.

"T-1-General 1942" income tax form was a national headache. C. Fraser Elliott, commissioner for income tax told a newsman here, at the height of the mob scene, he had high hopes for simplified income tax legislation in 1944 and with it a form that doesn't take a hopped-up chartered accountant to solve. Probably more C.W.A.C.'s, etc., in Ottawa than any other single place. My observation here is that Canada can be proud of them. From what I've seen in the nation's capital their bearing, conduct and deportment on the whole is excellent. It could be that some civilian women do not set the same standard.

Come prepared. Probably tradition, but lady visitors to the House of Commons galleries without a hat have to spread a kerchief or piece of Kleenex over their heads before entering the august presence. Men, of course, uncover. Seems—and sometimes looks—a little silly. Directed toward greater efficiency in manpower allocation it is announced here that a representative of National Selective Service will be located at army reception centres to interview rejected applicants for enlistment. If sympathetically handled, in my opinion, this should help to put more round pegs in round holes of the agricultural and industrial war effort.

The Prices Board has granted an increase of 2-3 of a cent a dozen on clothes pins. Doesn't seem much, but what does it mean to Canadian housewives? Curious I checked, found they use annually around one million pins to hang out the wash. 1941 census figures show that 82.5 percent of the population of Canada was born in this country, as against 77.9 in 1931. Of the 11,506,655 total about 8.7% were from British countries, mainly the British Isles; European, 3.7%; United States, 2.7%; Asia born only 0.4%.

Farmettes by Gardiner (Agriculture): Movement of coarse grains to eastern provinces for feeding will double 1942 figures, and probably reach 100 million bushels. Government pays cost of freight from Ft. William east, thus they buy at Ft. Wm. prices. He also said the reason there will be no subsidy on corn this year is because fertilizer is short, has to be distributed largely in connection with grass and other grain crops.

Widely quoted in the press was an article on political union in London Free Press. In brief it opposed union because "the British system is best; there is greater respect for law and order under it; there is a greater future under the British Commonwealth of Nations than becoming the 49th state in the Union."

In a spirit of humility but resolution, I thought, political leaders in the house referred to Dominion Day, 1943, as they were in session. Significant excerpts! Prime Minister King, "By our strength in war, and by our understanding and co-operation in peace, Canada can contribute mightily to the building of a better world." Mr. Graydon, Progressive-Conservative: "... our armed forces, we owe them a debt of gratitude difficult to pay ... resolve to pay them that debt, no matter how much it may be." Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., pinch-hitting: "If we are to have peace and harmony then we shall have to start thinking in terms of world community, not Anglo-Saxon races, but of the whole world." J. H. Blackmore, Social Credit: "... cause for deep satisfaction that we have boundless responsibilities for feeding of the people of the world and for the rehabilitation of the world."

Cockburn Urges Attack On "Invisible Agent"

Interest in potato growing is unusually keen this year and the agricultural office at Newmarket has had a great many requests for information on spraying and dusting.

Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn has issued an emphatic warning that growers should not depend on poison preparations to prevent flea beetles (which are pretty well over now for this year), for leaf hoppers, which will appear shortly, or for "late blight," these insects are "sucking insects" rather than "leaf eaters" and cannot be poisoned, Mr. Cockburn said. They are controlled by either spraying with a nicotine solution such as Black Leaf 40 or keep off the plants by use of either Bordeaux Mixture spray or a copper dust repellent.

Few of the "bug dusts" on the market contain copper dust, most of them being intended for the killing of the old-fashioned potato bug, Mr. Cockburn said. They are excellent for what they are intended, he said. He points out that these "potato bugs" are one of the growers' least worries nowadays, as they are so easily detected. The others are as thieves that come in the night—and daytime too and often are not recognized or noticed.

Bordeaux Mixture is made on a simple formula of 4 lbs. of blue-stone, 4 lbs. of spray lime and 40 gallons of water. Potatoes should be sprayed regularly every ten days at least to cover upper and lower sides of the leaves. It should be applied before a shower (as long as it has time to dry) rather than after. It acts as a preventative coating against blight spores (microscopic dust particles) which are floating in the air and carried down onto the potato tops by the rain. Like a raincoat, it should be put on before the storm.

If using a dust select only one for this purpose, namely the manufacturer's analysis indicates contains a copper dust material. Many growers stop spraying potatoes about midsummer when the bugs are over, said Mr. Cockburn. This is the most important thing for spray and the fortunate thing is that every application of Bordeaux Mixture stimulates plant growth to the equivalent of an average of 10 to 12 bush of potatoes per acre per spray, and when bugs have to be poisoned the lead or calcium arsenate can be mixed with this, rather than with pure water, making two applications in one.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Foy, Toronto, formerly of Aurora, received official notice on Saturday that their grandson, Flt.-Lieut. Jim Foy, R.C.A.F., was missing overseas. Flt.-Lieut. Foy, who is 20, attended public schools in Niagara Falls, Aurora and Toronto and graduated from Vaughan Road Collegiate.

Enlisting in the R.C.A.F. in October, 1940, he received his pilot's wings at Camp Borden in May, 1941, and went overseas immediately. He has been mentioned in news reports. His father is also with the R.C.A.F.

Aurorans Let Game "Out Of The Bag" In Last Inning

Despite the fact that they were out-hit 12-7, Aurora Ordnance Depot displayed enough courage Friday night to merit a win against Toronto R.C.O.C. Davisville team. However, lady luck refused to smile and the boys went under by a 7-6 score.

"Pep" Kelly, leading hitter of the Davisville league, with four hits was a thorn in the side of the Aurorans, while Shier, in right field, made a beautiful running catch in the seventh on White's bid for a homer with mates on board.

Catching four scratch hits in a row, the Toronto boys went for two runs in the tie, Aurora came back to tie it as White scored on Glover's long hit to centrefield.

In the second frame Charlie Case singled and Emmons tripled him home, but was "out" stretching the play, to give Aurora a 2-1 lead. Aurora notched another in the fourth, and in the fifth Wilf. White blasted a mammoth homer to make it 4-2.

In the seventh Emmons started another rally which brought the last two Aurora counters, and forced the Toronto boys to send their ace pitcher, Forsythe, to the mound.

In the eighth the Aurora defence wilted, after two were out and the game to all intents and purposes in the well-known bag, and when the smoke cleared the visitors had a one run margin. In the last of the eighth "Joint" McComb got as far as third base but pinch-hitter Briggs Creighton was unable to do anything about it.

Herb. Holman handled the game well at the plate, Emmons, McComb and Case were best for Aurora, with Kelly, Lynn, Vadden and Shier twinkling for the Davisville leaguers.

Aurora: Francis 2b, Goodhead 1b, White ss, Glover 3b, McComb p, Case c, Emmons rf, Cubbitt lf, Farley cf, Creighton u.

Depot Team Defeated 7-6 By Toronto R.C.O.C.

Florence James, an employee of the Aurora Ordnance Depot, was the winner of a $50 Victory bond at an event held by the R.C.O.C. recreation club Friday evening in the Aurora town park. Mayor Frank Underhill drew the name and Lieut. A. J. Badley made the presentation.

The Depot softball club engaged in a stirring softball encounter with Toronto R.C.O.C. team of the Davisville league. Late inning rallies enabled the visitors to squeeze out a 7-6 win.

Proceeds of the evening will be used for recreational and club room purposes.

DREW 22-POINT PROGRAM BACKED BY HOUSE RECORDS

Constructive Proposals In Public Interest

Speaking over the C.B.C. network Friday night, July 16th, Leslie M. Frost, M.P.P. for Victoria and Harbour, one of the outstanding Progressive Conservative members in the Ontario Legislature, emphasized the fact that the 22-point program recently outlined by George Drew, leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, was the product of extended consultation with his followers, and that it was unanimously adopted at a largely attended meeting of party candidates and officials from all over Ontario held at the Royal York Hotel on Saturday, July 3rd.

Not only this, said Mr. Frost, the platform given out after that meeting was the natural sequence and outcome of constructive proposals made in the legislature by Mr. Drew and his associates. Ever since the war began the Opposition, led by Mr. Drew, has at each session put forward a series of resolutions conceived in the public interest. These proposals, added the member for Victoria and Harbour, have been either voted down at the instance of the Liberal Government or declared out of order by a Liberal Speaker.

On February 15th, 1941, the Opposition, submitted a resolution calling upon the Government to move for a conference of representatives of the Dominion and of all the provinces for the following purposes:

- (a) To secure the greatest war and post-war efforts.
- (b) To meet emergencies created by the war.
- (c) To ensure adequate prices for agricultural products.
- (d) To protect the established rights of labor.

And to devise plans for the rehabilitation of the members of our armed forces and for the re-employment of civilians who may be thrown out of work by post-war industrial readjustment; and to consider such other questions relating to the welfare and prosperity of the people as may be deemed advisable.

Voted down by the Liberals including Mr. Nixon.

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING

The advisability of planning beforehand for post-war recovery was again pressed upon the House by the Opposition in a resolution which read:

"That the proposed St. Lawrence development and other public undertakings throughout the province, in the opinion of this Legislature, call for the immediate creation of an Ontario Town and Country Planning Commission, with authority to recommend and supervise plans for the reconstruction, reclamation, and development of rural and urban areas."

This and similar Opposition proposals were voted down by the Liberals, including Mr. Nixon.

ECONOMY URGED

In the same session the Opposition, impressed by the need for economy in the administration of the province, brought in a resolution:

"That the estimates for the current year be referred back to the executive council with instructions to decrease the total amount of supply by $25,000,000. This was turned down by the Liberals, including Mr. Nixon.

FOREST RESOURCES

Later on Mr. Drew's followers offered a resolution demanding that the administration and control of the provincial forest resources be placed under the supervision of a public body to be known as the Ontario Forest Resources Commission, after the manner of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission.

Rejected by the Liberals, including Mr. Nixon.

RECONSTRUCTION PLANS

In the late session of the Legislature (1943) the Opposition kept up the pressure for action by submitting this resolution:

"This House regrets that the Liberal Government has introduced no legislation to provide for the re-establishment in civilian occupations of the members of our forces, for after war reconstruction, and for work, wages, and social security for our people."

The Liberals, including Mr. Nixon, voted this down.

Still on the same drive for action the Opposition proposed:

"That the Government should undertake (with special reference to the constitutional relationships between the Dominion and Provincial Governments) a survey of existing social schemes here and elsewhere; and with due regard to the probable course of events after the war, make recommendations for a unified, portable plan which will assure a proper standard of work, wages, health, education, and living standards, for all our people with special reference to the re-establishment of the men

The Press Endorses Progressive Conservative Platform

DREW PLANS A DYNAMIC ONTARIO

(Essex County Reporter, Kingsville, Ont.) Social security, full employment, and economic planning are prominent topics of the day. George Drew's approach to the discussions forms a stimulating contribution . . . Ontario's planning problem, according to George Drew, is not a static one, but is dynamic in character, designed to develop to the utmost our Nature-given potentialities . . . his view at first may sound like old-line thinking, but one must admit that his approach is more than an echo of Laurier and Macdonald. He adds something new . . . our planning for the future must be dynamic.

DREW APPEALS TO THE BEST IN ONTARIO

(Ottawa Journal) For the Progressive Conservative Programme offered the people of Ontario by George Drew, one thing must be said at the outset. It is that here at least is a pronouncement by a public man who reveals understanding of the gravity, and the faith and hope, of our times . . . He (Mr. Drew) offers us a programme within the framework of freedom; a programme that must appeal to Ontario's tradition of individual independence and self-reliance. He would have government control and superintendence for the citizen; he would not subject men to the deadening hand of bureaucracy, nor plan us all into puppets under drill sergeants of the state. That he leaves as it should be left to the Socialists of the C.C.F. . . . No Ontario leader in years has advanced a more progressive, a more humane, or a more hopeful programme.

and women in our fighting forces and the war industries.

The Liberals, including Mr. Nixon, killed this resolution.

HELP FOR AGRICULTURE

The Opposition renewed the attack with this further resolution:

"The members of this Legislature express their regret that the Government has failed to meet the critical needs of our agricultural producers; and they insist that the Government immediately take whatever steps are necessary to assure stability of prices, and an adequate supply of manpower and machinery for the rapidly increasing demands of war production."

This was a move on behalf of the farmers of Ontario which the L.L. rule were afraid to veto directly. The Liberal Government members, including Mr. Nixon, got around this difficulty by adopting a resolution praising the Government for the admirable work done by the province in assuring manpower, prices and machinery for the agricultural industry.

UNIFORM RATE FOR HYDRO

The next resolution submitted by the Opposition asserted that the Hydro Electric resources of the Province belonged to all the people; and that it is therefore desirable that the Hydro Electric Power Commission Act be amended immediately to equalize rates for electric energy and remove the present service charge in rural areas.

TO MEET FUEL SHORTAGE

An Opposition resolution dealing with the current fuel shortage read:

"In the opinion of this House a fuel committee should be appointed to inquire into the fuel situation and to recommend to the government measures to assure the greatest possible supply of fuel for the coming winter."

cancelled. Well, Ab. old boy, I just another athlete who has made good.

Milwaukee, which is noted for its breweries and baseball, combined the two last month to set up a record of some kind. As you know beer and ale are sold in ball parks and arenas in the States, but, despite this fact soft drinks usually out-sell suds. Last month over 60,000 bottles of beer were sold as against 35,000 bottles of soft drinks. There could be, of course, a shortage of soft drinks, the umpires, however, were not much disturbed than usual by the fans.

Don Grosskurth, former Aurora, Richmond Hill, Weston and University of Toronto athlete, is now a sub-lieutenant in the navy. More and more the blue of the silent service seems to be attracting athletes and scholars. No service has had a more astounding growth.

Congratulations go to our old friend, Alfie Harden, who is stationed at North Bay. Alf, a reliable performer for Aurora junior hockeyists, Davis Leather and the first Newmarket camp team, has been promoted to sergeant and is also the proud father of a new baby girl.

Al. McGhee, another former Aurora hockeyist, better known as "Galleon," is back in civilian life again and working in Toronto. Alf was a member of the armored corps but due to a physical ailment received an honorable discharge, much to his disappointment.

Kenny Dixon, former Oakville junior hockeyist who played swell junior hockey in the local O.H.A. group two years ago, is the leading lacrosse scorer in the O.A.L.A. this season as a member of the Brampton Army Bullets. The soldier boys have not had too much luck to date either, which brings to mind that for the first time in a good many years there isn't a single North York lad playing lacrosse anywhere this season.

Camp Borden is finally to have lacrosse. The three armored corps centres are each fielding a team to play on a 100 by 50 yards outdoor field, with no sid-s, under box lacrosse rules. No side will be worn and hockey nets will serve for the goals. After an absence from the gutted stick of over 12 years we picked up a bludgeon the other day and, despite army conditioning, were about ready for the cleaners after a 90-minute practice. With the exception of boys from St. Catharines, Oshawa, Mississauga, New Westminister, and several other places only a few had ever seen "Canada's national game," let alone handled a stick. They will soon pick it up, however.

Swatmuth statistics emanating from the Davisville senior league show "Smooth" O'Neil of Newmarket camp in sixth spot with an average of 316. Right behind him is his team-mate, "Bucky" Buehowski, with a 325 total. Al. Wysinski has a 306 average, and Coffey, the slightly Cap infidel, has a 302 mark. Surprised to see Sgt. Chas. Exelby out of the charmed inner circle.

Bertie Hodge, sensational colored catcher, has a 291 average and is coming fast to the top. "Pep" Kelly, Ordnance second baseman, who has appeared twice this year in Aurora, heads the hitters with a .462 total.

Bobby Lynn, the rotund catcher and netminder on this year's Aurora Depot intermediate sextet, has a 300 average. Camp averages went down a bit last Thursday too as Joe Davis of Bowser's handcuffed the soldier sluggers with a nifty four-hit pitching effort. Despite the fact Exelby and Valliere are not hitting 300, they are no push-overs at bat and as dangerous as any of them.

Statistics figuring works out strangely. Toronto R.C.O.C. has defeated No. 23 once at least and generally looked good against the Camp. In turn the Toronto R.C.O.C. has twice been lucky to beat Aurora depot, which was easy pickings for Newmarket. Same way, our boys from No. 3 armored centre were only able to nose out the Aurora soldiers 7-6, while "Camp Borden Ordnance" whipped Aurora 8-5. In turn No. 3 last week trounced the hitherto unbeaten Ordnance team 21-3 in a Camp Borden fixture. You can't dope very much from that, except that like the weather softball is hard to forecast.

Transportation difficulties have prevented the Aurora Depot nine from visiting either No. 3 or Camp Borden R.C.O.C. for scheduled games. Believe it or not army vehicles at the Depot are in the rare avis class. Both games will be played later, however.

The long awaited hockey shindig for the Aurora championship team has just about been set. Windbreakers bearing the O.H.A. official crest, and said to be a thing of beauty, will be presented to the boys as well as gold medals from the hockey association. From all accounts, a bang-up celebration has been arranged, calculated to last to the wee sma' hours. We hope to be able to attend. Civilian officers of the Aurora club, as well as public and O.H.A. officials, will be present for the affair. Hot weather will probably prevent a complete replay of the games by those attending, which will be a good thing if we can correctly remember other hockey banquets.

Billy Boaks, ace golfer of the Aurora club, has almost completely recovered from an illness which has kept him on the sidelines and from work most of the season. Last Sunday he was biffing the little white sphere in old-time style. While the membership is not large, the Aurora club is said to be having a fairly successful season this year.

If records count the Newmarket camp athletes should be able to do pretty well in the army medal at Kingston. We do not know if the record book will be reset to meet without spikes but we did see the Camp Borden meet and, on comparative performances, the boys from No. 23 look pretty good. Chief stars for Borden will be Doug Smylie, husky Balmy Beach footballer, who took the running broad and 440 run, Lient. Gooch, former Hamilton Olympic athlete in the 100 yards and colored boy Gilbert Heron, who plays shortstop in softball for us. He took the 220 and was just nosed out of the championship in the century dash and running broad. The other performers do not appear to be in a class with the red raiders from Newmarket. The meet, despite rain, was run off smoothly, as are most army affairs.

Too bad civilian officials cannot get the same system. Lack of spike shoes is playing a big part in cutting down the performances of the soldier athletes, but, without them everybody has been able to compete equally, which, after all, is the main thing.

Bruce Holt, former Midland hockey star, who played against North York teams on more than one occasion, has been inviolated back from overseas, where he was a lance-jack with the service corps.

Sambo Williams is a name you may not remember but he was to us as mentioned Bernia Hodge, the colored catcher for Newmarket camp. Williams was the only other colored baseball player we ever remember playing in these parts. About 15 or 18 years ago Richmond Hill hardballers secured Williams to catch for them and he was a sensation. For some minor crime he had been sent to the Toronto jail farm and the Hill officials were lucky enough to be able to get the warden to permit him to play. Probably when he was in his time was served he departed elsewhere but he was just good enough to be in a class with "Dooly" Butler of Aurora, and Billy Epworth of Newmarket, two of the greatest catchers we have seen in action in local leagues.

Gusie Carnegie, another dark-skinned player known for Thornhill juniors and hockey for Willowdale.

Lee Young was the only Chinese athlete of distinction ever to play baseball or hockey in the district. Young, a clean-cut lad with good looks, played shortstop and junior hockey for Willowdale and was well regarded in both sports for his ability and speed.

Mickey Sutton, promising young Aurora athlete, and Billy Mundell, a future great at 11 years of age, are both playing hardball this year for Richmond Hill midges, who are in the Toronto midges league. The Hill kids, managed by Grant

PLEASANTVILLE

HEAR FROM SON IN GERMAN PRISON CAMP

Commencing Aug. 1, the Pine Orchard Union church service will be held at 9.45 a.m.

Miss Florence Tucker, Toronto, spent the weekend at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hawtin, Misses Margaret and Beth Hawtin and Mrs. George Hawtin, Beaverton, were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. E. Hawtin and Mrs. M. F. Starr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunt visited Mrs. Hunt's grandmother, at Snowball on Sunday.

Mrs. George Hunt had a quilt-making at her home last Tuesday in aid of the Red Shield. Those present included Mrs. Earl Toole, Mrs. Chas. Toole, Mrs. Alan Forbes, Mrs. G. McClure, Mrs. Norman Kay, Mrs. Ivan Kay, Mrs. A. Colville and Mrs. A. Needler.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hawtin, Beaverton, have had a letter from their son, Arthur, who is a prisoner of war in Germany.

DIVERSION

"Now, girls," said the restaurant manager, "I want you all to look your best today. Add a little extra dab of powder to your cheeks and take a bit more care with your hair."

"Why what's the matter?" asked the head waitress. "Butter bad again?"

"No," said the manager, "the beef's tough."

Nighswander, former secretary of Markham junior hockey club, while they have yet to win a game, are fast reaching the stage where they will be a power in the league. The club is sponsored by the Richmond Hill Lions club and the youngsters are more than grateful for the chance. Watford Richmond Hill on the sports front is a slogan you can paste in your hat for the next few years at least.

Aurora kids are still practising hardball, and maestros Bill Holloway and Leonard Simmons are convinced that they can just about take the measure of the Hill kids. A series has been arranged. Sutton, who plays third base, and Mundell, who is handling the traffic in the left field, will both be playing for Aurora against their team-mates. Holloway and Simmons both deserve a big hand for their efforts. We wish there were more like them around. Newmarket hardballers might well take steps to get kids interested in hardball, or their present league, which has had difficulty surviving, may peter out. A long-term policy that would assure cant-town hardball for years to come would be to work with the kids.

POLICE COURT

Blames Queen's Park
For License Mistakes

"These mistakes are causing a lot of trouble," said Magistrate W.
 N. Robinson in York county police court, Newmarket, on Tuesday morning, in "mistaken identity"
 speeding case.
 Constable George Foster laid the charge against Chas. Somerville, Toronto, for exceeding the speed limit in Georgian township. Mr.
 Somerville wrote that his car had never been in Georgian township.
 "There must be a very careless staff at the parliament buildings," said Magistrate Robinson.
 Among the 75 cases on the court docket there were one or two others of alleged "mistaken identity." Chief Constable Fisher Dunham, Aurora, gave evidence against Robert H. Kyle, R.C.A.F., Toronto, for exceeding the speed limit with a blue sedan. The officer said that his car was gray and green and produced evidence that he had been in hospital at the time of the alleged offence. He had the car keys in his possession while in hospital. The charge was dismissed.

"I am in the habit of driving my car at 35 miles per hour on the open highway," wrote an auto-list, J. Fawkes, Toronto, "because with the over-drive transmission that is standard equipment on my car, I can prove without doubt that I can increase my gasoline mileage by six miles per gallon at 45 miles an hour instead of 40."
 "He'll get lots of fines then,"
 commented the magistrate.
 Continental Woolen Mills Ltd.,
 Toronto, was fined $49 and costs for going 64 miles per hour. Constable Wm. Hill laid the charge.
 A friend appearing on behalf of Mrs. Edna Piper, Toronto, pleaded guilty to exceeding the speed limit near Schomberg, but disputed the speed. County Constable Ronald Watt put the speed at 56 miles per hour. Mrs. Piper's speedometer put it at 47 miles per hour. Magistrate Robinson made the fine $15 and costs instead of $25 and costs and told Mrs. Piper's representative to get his speedometer tested.
 Frank W. Walker, Toronto, war worker, told the magistrate that he came to Newmarket by bus on his way to visit his son working on a farm in Queensville. He was planning to hitch-hike the rest of the way, but couldn't get a ride and went up to the military camp to get something to eat. He had enlisted Sept. 3, 1939, and had later been discharged. He was given a meal at the camp, he said.
 A camp N.C.O. said that Mr.
 Walker had crawled into the camp through a hole. Mr. Walker contended that the parade grounds
 "looked like a race-track" to him and that he had walked into the camp without finding any barrier.
 Chief Constable James Sloss said that he was called to the camp and questioned Mr. Walker in the guardhouse.

Magistrate Robinson imposed a fine of $10 and costs or 15 days for vagrancy.
 Leon Oliver, Toronto, a young man, faced charges of vagrancy and resisting arrest laid by Constable Carl Morton. He had been in custody since Saturday night.
 He pleaded guilty to "being drunk" and asked that the case be dealt with.
 "My wife is not well and has a small baby, and I would like the case cleared up," he said.
 Constable Morton asked for a remand to get his witnesses.
 Magistrate Robinson said that he was not going to permit a remand if it was a case of the constable just neglecting to get his witnesses.
 "There is a special duty on police officers when a man is in custody to get their witnesses here," said the magistrate. Constable Morton said that he had not had time to get the witnesses, and that there were other charges to be laid.
 The court remanded Mr. Oliver in custody until next Tuesday. Bail was set at $200 but he said that he had no one whom he would ask for bail.
 J. R. Greer, Newmarket, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving, and was fined $10 and costs.
 Chief Constable Fisher Dunham, Aurora, laid the charge.
 Wm. P. Mills, Poplar Bank, was fined $10 and costs for careless driving. Provincial Constable Alex.
 Ferguson said that "within two seconds Mr. Mills had almost two accidents." The constable said that Mr. Mills was going south on Yonge St. and turned left on to Eagle St. in the path of one truck and then forced another truck turning in Eagle St. from the south "to go up an embankment."
 "You can't make a left turn on the highway without regard for traffic," said the court. "You must

Theodore Brighans, a York township police officer who is at present working on a farm, testified that he played one of the machines, that there was no skill involved, and that he received merchandise in return for the slugs he won at the rate of five cents each.

Bruce J. Lord, Toronto, was fined $9 and costs on a speed

FAIRY TALES

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Fairy tales formed one of the standard articles of my literary diet when I was small.

I lived and moved and had my being with Snow White and Rose Red, with Cinderella and the Seven Sleepers, with the Ice Maiden and the little Pine Tree.

They were not just fairy tales to me, theirs was the atmosphere in which I thrived, and if a wicked witch had suddenly appeared and changed me into a drudge or a bird or some other form of life, I don't think it would have surprised me. It would have fitted far too well into my childish philosophy.

But I've been thinking about the years since then, the years in which fairy tales have come true, and I often wonder if we think enough about the world we live in, or if, which is the line of least resistance, we just accept everything which comes to us, nor ever give thought to the often heartbreaking efforts which brought the many wonders which brighten our days into being.

In those early days of which I am thinking, the only music we had was produced by the instrumentalist or vocalist.

If you couldn't play or sing and if the same dumbness was shared by your family, you had NO music, unless the infrequent concert opera, which found its way to the small towns, and in consequence many children grew up in the arid atmosphere of a musicless home.

Their voices atrophied from lack of use and no matter what advantages they could avail themselves of in later years, those years that "the locust had eaten" held them back from the full benefit and enjoyment which can only come when music surrounds childhood like an atmosphere.

Contrast that with the children's music fare today and you have a fairy tale come true. Very few homes are so poor that no radio finds its way into them and the turning of a button brings the music of all ages into the lives there. Then, if we had news, good or bad, but important, we had to telegraph it in nine words or write a letter which took days to reach its destination.

Now we lift our telephone receiver off its hook, ask for a number any place reachable, and we can talk and explain and rejoice or sorrow, with some hope that we will be understood, whereas a telegram might mean any one of two or three things, if the sender were not gifted with lucidity of expression.

Then I remember my childish vanity over the fact that we had a horse that could go the thirty miles from Smith's Falls to Brockville in three hours.

If we took three hours to go to Toronto, nowadays, we'd tear our hair and stamp with rage and wonder, in our spoiled land of fairy tales come true, what this world was coming to.

When the wars before we had radio were fought, we waited and waited for news. Now we know what happens, unless suppressed for military reasons, the very day of the event.

It may be in China or Timbuctoo or Alaska; it may have happened on the land, in the air, under the sea or on it; it matters not where, we hear it and often see it.

We can have curls where nature never bestowed them; if a nose or ear or part of a face is lost, the marvel of plastic surgery comes forward and an existence of horror made normal.

Turning or pushing a button gives us light, cooks our food, washes our clothes, churns our butter, drives our machinery, motivates our pipe organs and generally proves itself the wizard of the age.

So do you wonder I feel that we live, and often thoughtlessly, in a fairy tale age, where new wonders, delights and awe-inspiring inventions are always waiting for the scientist.

O. H. M. S.

By GOLDEN GLOW

This surely is the age of initials—and I would not mind asserting that even the best of us are puzzled at times. I know I am, but then I do not consider myself among what I have designated as "the best of us." We have so many new organizations—especially now we are again at war. The WAACS and WRCS (Wrens), the CWACS and so on. Not long ago you would hear somebody say what on earth does "C.I.O." stand for—nobody seemed to know for sure! I expect we all know what I.O.U. means, and C.O.D.—but what does F.O.B. mean, blessed if I know, and I've asked several and they do not know either! However, O.H.M.S. and R.M. and G.R. we all know, and as a general rule anything connected with the post office we welcome with eagerness. No—not always perhaps—but mostly.

And now we are on the subject, what a marvellous organization is our postal service! We have taken it for granted since our early days. "Run down and get the mail" is an errand every child has been sent to do for generations—now wait, I am wrong there—I don't suppose the generation before us used to get so many letters as all that, and postage stamps were also unknown. How do I know? I saw some letters at a friend's home not long ago and the postmaster had written on it that the sender had paid a certain amount to have it delivered to the person to whom it was addressed.

"On His Majesty's Service"—"O.H.M.S." Those four words really do mean a lot to us. What visions they bring of bags and bags of mail, especially at Christmas and other celebrations. What would we do without our post office and our mailman? Especially now, with so many in service overseas, letters again, as 25 years ago, have become of the utmost importance. When we consider the hundreds of thousands of letters sent, it is remarkable how few are ever lost!

The majority of us have no conception of the work of the postmaster-general, Col. W. P. Mulock, and his department, and the remarkable record he has achieved. Yes, it's orchids to Col. Mulock, and to his grandfather, Sir Wm. Mulock, who occupied the same post in the government in former years.

Soldier mail, civilian mail, government mail, business mail—we never stop to think how deftly and how efficiently and smoothly all is handled. Rural mail, city delivery—even the pillar-boxes in towns like ours for the accommodation of the folks living several blocks away from the post office building.

What a tremendous lot of work it all involves—but how considerate and courteous are the postmasters and their smiling helpers, wherever you go. Public servants, yes! But what

TOWN WARNS PUBLIC ON GARBAGE, WEEDS

"At the corner of College and Oak Sts. on private property some people are in the habit of dumping garbage," Councillor A. V. Higginson told the town council on Monday evening.

"Could the town provide signs to put up stating that there was to be no dumping there?" Mr. Higginson asked.

"There are half a dozen places in the town where people are dumping garbage," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "A notice should be put in the paper this week warning people that they will be prosecuted. People should also be warned that they will have to clean up their own yards."

Stating that J. J. Smith's billiard room and bowling-alley would be closed six months, as a result of the fine in February, Councillor J. L. Spilllette asked if Mr. Smith was entitled to a rebate on his license or tax payments.

"He should get a rebate of part of his pool-room and bowling license," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk and solicitor. "He should apply to the court of revision for an allowance on his business and property assessment. That would affect his next year's taxes."

The council voted a rebate of half of the 1943 pool-room license. Mr. Mathews reported that Wellington Curtis, weed inspector, was having difficulty in getting people to deal with weeds on some properties. He was told to warn people that the town would cut the weeds and charge the cost to the property owners.

a grand job they are doing—and how helpful when we get hopelessly mixed over details that seem so clear to them, and they take as much trouble over you as if it were their own problem.
